FINANCIAL NEED

MANAGE YOUR FINANCIAL FUTURE

(By Planning Goals, Investing & Saving)

For a financial planner, that hardly enough it's not quantified or planned with life's goals in mind "That secured future often eludes us when it's not planned. When you save money but do not know why, it's like hiring a taxi for a long ride without knowing where you'd want to get off."

WHAT ARE FINANCIAL GOALS?

Consider your family as if it were a business where you are the top manager, your spouse, children and other dependants the employees. All of you have present and future fund requirements. Your spouse and you are the profit centers, if you are both earning. You pay your dependants indirectly, since they need to study, enjoy the goods and services they need, travel, get marry, see the doctor. You will also need sufficient to retire and be independent when inflation will make living much costlier than its today.

Here are some of the points to remember

1. Identify the Goals
2. List and Prioritize the goals
3. Estimate all costs
4. Reckon the time needed
5. Finance your retirement

IDENTIFY THE GOALS.

Unless you are super rich, identifying and achieving these goals can be tricky, since they could clash.

LIST AND PRIORITIZE THE GOALS

Make a simple four-column chart. Fill it carefully with your short – medium and long term goals. There is the probability that you won't achieve every goal, so the less important goals must be met only after fulfilling the most important one in all the three time frames. You question to yourself "Do I have to fulfill this?" and "Do I simply wish I could have this? If the answer to the 1st question is yes then it's a responsibility. Prioritize that. If your answer yes to the 2nd question also then it is a dream that must get low priority or not be on your list of goals at all.

ESTIMATE ALL COSTS

Here's where homework is needed. If you live on rent and plan to buy a home after five years, work with the rates at which property prices have been rising to get an estimate. Go online, talk to people, and find out the cost of every item on your listing, adding a ballpark 10% increase in price for every year before the target date.

RECKON THE TIME NEEDED

For long-term goals, time should be considered your friend, since your investments can grow and benefit from the power of compounding.

FINANCE YOUR RETIREMENT

Your expenses may come down after you retire. To fund your retirement contribute as much as you can to your employee PF and Public Provident Fund accounts. Invest in some land or other property that could give you a rental income. Start saving early in shares and equity mutual funds, so that by the time you retire-income securities like FDS and bonds that will also give you regular income. At retirement time never sell off all your equity investments, because over the long years of your retirement there could be sharp upturns in the market that you may cash in on.

ARE WE REALLY INDEPENDENT???

I am continuously haunted by a question i.e. are we truly free and independent? We have gained freedom from the British rule but what have we done with our independence? It has been 64 years since we have gained independence. We are a free nation now. But still after so many years, the question remains the same.

We proudly claim that we are independent from a foreign rule but we are still not free from jealousy, intolerance and hatred towards our fellow countrymen. We are full of bitterness towards other religions, traditions and always try to suppress the growth of the other. We are tied in shackles of terrorism, false ideologies, corruption, communal violence, and class – caste distinctions and so on. We tend to forget that independence is not only living freely but also allowing others to live freely.

We say that we are a free nation but our behavior suggests that we are still not free. We take pride in other's culture but not in our own culture. We admire other nations but forget to count the good points of our nation. We love western culture and try to avoid Indian culture. We love pizza, McDonalds, Pepsi, and Coke but hate Indian recipes. We wear jeans, skirts and often criticize our saris and suits. We take pride in a foreign language but fail to learn and appreciate our language. We aspire for jobs in USA, UK, and Australia etc. and are filled with regret for being born and living in India. No doubt we are independent but monetarily paralyzed. We do not think independently, we often think what others make us think.

All this really makes one think that are we really independent? Are we a free nation? Are we worthy of any praise?

These are haunting questions which we may hesitate to answer but they are standing in our way of success and have to be answered as soon as possible. A unified India should come together to answer these questions as this is not a job of one individual but the whole nation.

It would be unfair to say that that we cannot do anything because when we Indians decide to do something then nothing is impossible for us. It is just a momentary laziness and lack of encouragement that has led to such a situation. We should call all the people especially the youth of the nation, to come forward and break all the shackles to make the country truly independent and free. Everyone should pledge to work towards the development of India in a true sense and make India – a place full of love and happiness and mark it as a successful nation on the world map. Only then, will we be independent in true sense of the term.

Hope this time elections & elected Government will change the scenario. New Government should project a vision for the society & for the nation. A vision which should cut-through diversity of our nation, also respecting the various regional, religious and social groups. Political leadership which can guide India to such a thing will not only be successful in elections, but would also be successful in formulating an "Indian dream".

Charity begins at home .So here's a list to get you started on creating a sustainable planet

- Use compact fluorescent lamps (CFLs) as they are four times more energy efficient than incandescent bulbs. Replacing just one 100W incandescent light bulb with a 20W CFL can reduce annual carbon dioxide emissions by 84 kg.
- An annual carbon dioxide emission of a washing machine at wash temperature 60 °C is 119 kg as compared to 21 kg at 25°C. Therefore, using a cold cycle in the washing machine can reduce annual carbon dioxide emission by 98 kg per washing machine.
- Geysers come with a factory setting of 60 °C , but a comfortable bath requires water at around 40°C. Reducing the temperature setting on a 25-litre geyser from 60°C to 40° C can reduce annual carbon dioxide emission by 172 kg pr household.
- By reducing unnecessary use of microwave oven by just 5 minutes a day, each household can reduce carbon dioxide emission by 30 kg
- Switching off electrical appliances (for example TV) at the plug point instead of turning them off only with the remote can reduce each household's emission by 106 kg.
- By reducing water consumption by just 100 liters a day each household can reduce annual carbon dioxide emissions by 24 and 23 kg.
- By using pressure cookers daily instead of cooking in pots and pans with lids each household can reduce annual carbon dioxide emissions by at least 125 kg!
- By reducing the usage of gas for cooking by just 20 minutes a day each house hold can reduce annual carbon dioxide emissions by 62 kg!
- Switching from a desktop to a laptop can reduce an individual's annual carbon dioxide emissions between 205 and 279 kg!
- By turning off just one fan and an incandescent light bulb when not in use each household can reduce annual carbon dioxide emissions by 28 kg.
- Using a solar water heater instead of a 25-litre geyser can prevent the emissions of 687 kg of carbon dioxide per year.

Memo Degradation

Memo from CEO to Manager:

Today at 11 o'clock there will be a total eclipse of the sun. This is when the sun disappears behind the moon for two minutes. As this is something that cannot be seen every day, time will be allowed for employees to view the eclipse in the parking lot. Staff should meet in the lot at ten to eleven, when I will deliver a short speech introducing the eclipse, and giving some background information. Safety goggles will be made available at a small cost.

Memo from Manager to Department Head:

Today at ten to eleven, all staff should meet in the car park. This will be followed by a total eclipse of the sun, which will appear for two minutes. For a moderate cost, this will be made safe with goggles. The CEO will deliver a short speech beforehand to give us all some information. This is not something that can be seen every day.

Memo from Department Head to Floor Manager:

The CEO will today deliver a short speech to make the sun disappear for two minutes in the form of an eclipse. This is something that cannot be seen every day, so staff will meet in the car park at ten or eleven. This will be safe, if you pay a moderate cost.

Memo from Floor Manager to Supervisor:

Ten or eleven staff are to go to the car park, where the CEO will eclipse the sun for two minutes. This doesn't happen every day. It will be safe, and as usual it will cost you.

Memo from Supervisor to staff:

Some staff will go to the car park today to see the CEO disappear. It is a pity this doesn't happen every day.

It's very easy to Say But very Hard to Prove!!! Relationships....

These 5 relationship truths may be a bit difficult to accept at times, but in the end, they will help you weed out. The wrong relationships, make room for the right ones, and nurture the people who are most important to you.

1. Some relationships will be blessings, others will serve as lessons. – Either way, never regret knowing someone. Everyone you encounter teaches you something important. Some people will test you, some will use you, and some will teach you; but most importantly some will bring out the best in you.
2. Harsh words can hurt a person more than physical pain. – Taste your own words before you spit them out. Words hurt and scar more than you think, so THINK before you speak. And remember, what you say about others also says a whole lot about YOU.
3. Silence and a half smile can hide a lot of pain from the world. – Pay close attention to those you care about. Sometimes when a friend says, "I'm okay," they need you to look them in the eyes, hug them tight, and reply, "I know you're not."
4. True love comes when manipulation stops. – True love comes when you care more about who the other person really is than about who you think they should become, when you dare to reveal yourself honestly, and to be open and vulnerable it takes two to create a sincere environment where this is possible.
5. Even the best relationships don't last forever. – Nobody gets through life without losing someone they love, someone they need, or something they thought was meant to be. Appreciate what you have, who loves you and who cares for you. You'll never know how much they mean to you until the day they are no longer beside you. And remember, just because something doesn't last forever, doesn't mean it wasn't worth your while.

Lesson from Nature

Next Autumn Season if & when you see geese heading south for the winter, flying in a "V" formation, you might consider what science has discovered as to why they fly that way and remember what it teaches about leading and working well with larger groups.

As each bird flaps its wings, it creates uplift for the bird immediately following. By flying in a "V" formation, the whole flock adds at least 71 percent greater flying range than if each bird flew on its own. People who share a common direction and sense of community can get where they are going more quickly and easily, because they are travelling on the thrust of one another.

When a goose falls out of formation, it suddenly feels the drag and resistance of trying to go it alone and quickly gets back into formation to take advantage of the lifting power of the bird in front. If we have the sense of a goose, we will stay in formation with those people who are heading the same way we are.

When the head goose gets tired, it rotates back in the wing and another goose flies point. It is sensible to take turns doing demanding jobs, whether with people or with geese flying south.

Geese honk from behind to encourage those up front to keep up their speed. What message do we give when we honk from behind?

Finally - and this is important - when a goose gets sick or is wounded by gunshot, and falls out of the formation, two other geese fall out with that goose and follow it down to lend help and protection. They stay with the fallen goose until it is able to fly or until it dies; and only then do they launch out on their own, or with another formation to catch up with their own group. If we have the sense of a goose, we will stand by each other like that.

It's amazing if we just look around what great lessons can we learn simply through staying open to learn from each other.

Leadership in a Business Environment

1. Be a good role model. To earn respect, it's important to show that you know your stuff. People will respect and listen to you if they know you are knowledgeable in your field.
2. Leave room for input. Though it's important to be firm, you should still leave some room for the considerations of others. Also, there's a lot you can learn from your employees, which will help your business growth.
3. Be clear about your rules and expectations. Whether you're the CEO of a company or the manager of a team of four people, it's important to make your expectations crystal clear from the beginning.
4. Reward employees for good behavior. To be a good leader, you need to maintain high team morale, and to motivate employees to achieve their goals in a timely manner.
5. Be liked. Though it's important for your workers to respect you most of all, it couldn't hurt for them to think you're a person who is worth spending time with. This will make them more excited to work for you and to have you as their leader

Management Story

Story # 1

It's a fine sunny day in the forest and a lion is sitting outside his cave, lying in the sun. Along comes a fox, out on a walk.

Fox: "Do you know the time, because my watch is broken"

Lion: "Oh, I can easily fix the watch for you"

Fox: "Hmm... But it's a very complicated mechanism, and your big claws will only destroy it even more"

Lion: "Oh no, give it to me, and it will be fixed"

Fox: "That's ridiculous! Any fool knows that lazy lions with great claws cannot fix complicated watches"

Lion: "Sure they do, give it to me and it will be fixed"

The lion disappears into his cave, and after a while he comes back with the watch which is running perfectly.

The fox is impressed, and the lion continues to lie lazily in the sun, looking very pleased with himself. Soon a wolf comes along and stops to watch the lazy lion in the sun.

Wolf: "Can I come and watch TV tonight with you, because mine is broken"

Lion: "Oh, I can easily fix your TV for you"

Wolf: "You don't expect me to believe such rubbish, do you? There is no way that a lazy lion with big claws can fix a complicated TV"

Lion: "No problem. Do you want to try it?"The lion goes into his cave, and after a while comes back with a perfectly fixed TV. The wolf goes away happily and amazed.

Scene :

Inside the lion's cave. In one corner are half a dozen small and intelligent looking rabbits who are busily doing very complicated work with very detailed instruments. In the other corner lies a huge lion looking very pleased with himself.

Moral :

If you want to know why a Manager is famous; Look at the work of his subordinates.

Management Lesson

If you want to know why someone undeserved is promoted; look at the work of his subordinates.

Story # 2

It's a fine sunny day in the forest and a rabbit is sitting outside his burrow, tippy-tapping on his typewriter.

Along comes a fox, out for a walk.

Fox: "What are you working on?"Rabbit: "My thesis."

Fox: "Hmm... What is it about?"

Rabbit: "Oh, I'm writing about how rabbits eat foxes."

Fox: "That's ridiculous! Any fool knows that rabbits don't eat foxes!"Rabbit: "Come with me and I'll show you!"

They both disappear into the rabbit's burrow. After few minutes, gnawing on a fox bone, the rabbit returns to his typewriter and resumes typing. Soon a wolf comes along and stops to watch the hardworking rabbit.

Wolf: "What's that you are writing?"

Rabbit: "I'm doing a thesis on how rabbits eat wolves."

Wolf: "you don't expect to get such rubbish published, do you?"

Rabbit: "No problem. Do you want to see why?"The rabbit and the wolf go into the burrow and again the rabbit returns by himself, after a few minutes, and goes back to typing. Finally a bear comes along and asks, "What are you doing? Rabbit: "I'm doing a thesis on how rabbits eat bears."Bear: "Well that's absurd!"Rabbit: "Come into my home and I'll show you"

Scene:

As they enter the burrow, the rabbit introduces the bear to the lion.

Moral:

It doesn't matter how silly your thesis topic is;

What matters is whom you have as a supervisor.

TRAINING & INFORMATION ON INTERNATIONAL TRADE , INCO-TERMS , EXPORT & IMPORT PROCESS

Rules of the Game

Globalization has created opportunities to many local as well multinational companies in India. Many times we decide to agree on commercial terms looking at the benefits from a transaction without realizing the indirect risks & liability if anything goes wrong which I call "Just In Case".

Half information is always dangerous & many of the transactions happen as a duplication of previous practice without understanding OR realizing the facts. Major of the times we get carried away based on half knowledge OR perception which can create problem in the longer run of business.

We as a service provider like to be focused on knowledge exchange programme with our Customer & Partners which will enable them to gather more information on trade & prevent from any damages related to liabilities.

We conducted a "Intermodel Transport" training at Sulzer India Ltd. on 26th March 2014.

There were +40 participants & it was a very informative session of 2 hrs with high level interaction.

We really thank our customers for the trust which they show & extend us the platform as well considers us capable of making presentations to their entire team.

In coming days we intend to conduct similar "INTERMODAL TRANSPORT PROGRAMMES" for all our valued customers.
